FORMER RESIDENT BAZETTE COMMUNITY DIED IN RANGER

TEMPLE, Sept. 14.—(P)—The Texas Soil and Water Conservation association, now permanently organized, planned today to launch a state-wide educational campaign on soil and water conservation work.

Five hundred farmers and soil conservation leaders from all sections of the state, in convention here yesterday, elected V. C. Marshall of Heidenheimer, Bell county, president of the permanent set-up; Tom C. Heffner of Crystal Falls, vice-president, and Joseph C. Peacock of Palestine, executive secretary.

The group selected Temple as permanent headquarters, and named W. M. Deck of Perryton; E. H. Grimes of White Deer; William C. Kennedy of Muleshoe; N. H. Plerce of Menard; S. H. Burchard of Gonzales; Miller Harwood of Taft; R. Roy Ruff of Brownsville; J. S. Sharp of Paris; J. R. McCrary of Clavert, and John T. Smither of Huntsville, Herrner and Marshall as directors to serve a year.

Featured In Broadway Melody of 1938

Last year's "Broadway Melody" set a precedent in bringing to the entertainment world more than a half dozen new screen personalities. The new "Broadway Melody of 1938" coming Saturday night to the Palace theatre, promises to do even better. "After the release of 'Melody of '35'," said Director Roy Del Ruth, who directed it, "the names of Eleanor Powell and Robert Taylor were starred. Buddy Ebsen, Frances Langford, Robert Wildhack and Sid Silvers, heretofore unknown on the screen, became favorites to the average theater-goer.

ANARCHIST COUP SECURES CONTROL SPANISH SEAPORT

HENDAYE, Franco - Spanish Border, Sept. 14.—(A)—Anarchists have made a coup d'etat at Gijon, lone Spanish government stronghold in the northwest, and have set up an Asturian dictatorship, insurgent officers announced at Irun today.

Secret military advices said Be larmio Tomas, an anarchist, headed the movement.

He issued a decree breaking off relations with the Spanish central government and setting up a separate anarchist state in Asturias, with himself the dicta

Asturias, with himself the dictator.

One of Tomas' first acts was to order the imprisonment of the whole general staff of the Spanish government's retreating northern army.

Morcover, insurgent headquarters at Irun stated, he imprisoned foreign military experts with the government forces.

Several high Spanish officers were ordered executed.

Two boats were loaded with rightist prisoners, the insurgent announcement said, and the captives were warned they would be sunk if insurgents made any more bombing raids on Gijon, their present objective in the north.

mediately swung into action to concentrate a mighty fleet on the inland sea.

Great Britain more than doubled her Mediterranean fighting strength. New admiralty orders disclosed she will have 90 warships in the inland sea within a few days, compared with a regular patrol of 42.

The latest orders sent ten men of war from home waters into the Mediterranean.

The fourth destroyer flotilla, composed of eight destroyers, and light cruiser and a flotilla leader, was commanded to be ready to sail to the Mediterranean from England.

Large British Patrol
This means there are 36 British destroyers and four flotilla leaders—in addition to battleships and other heavy craft—earmarked for piracy patrol duty.

Nine torpedo boats from the French Atlantic fleet—with fresh cargoes of supplies, including munitions, taken on at Brest—drove quickly toward their Mediterranean patrol posts.

CHECK CONSERVATION COMPLIANCE THROUGH USE OF AERIAL MAPS

Aerial maps are being used in checking compliance on the various farms of Navarro county in connection with the 1937 Agricultural Conservation program, according to H. C. Robinson, county agent. These maps are accurate and complete in detail.

The compliance supervisor, in locating the individual farm to be checked, first takes a composite picture, known as a grid map, covering an area of approximately 80 square miles in the neighborhood in which the farm is located. This map has a scale of 2,000 feet to one inch, showing plainly all towns, roads, creeks, rivers, etc., enabling anyone familiar with the territory to easily locate the farm. Numbers of individual maps making up the composite grid maps are shown on the grid in exactly the same order and position in which they are put together.

tion in which they are put together.

The supervisor takes the field map of the correct number, showing the particular farm in question, for checking compliance on this farm. This map, with a scale of 660 feet to one inch, covering an area of approximately four square miles, also shows all natural markers as roads, creeks, rivers, tanks, farm buildings, cultivated land, etc. very plainly the county agent pointed out. The supervisor checks all of the cultivated land and the crops growing on the and the crops growing on the farm in 1937. This is done by drawing in on the map, according to scale, and numbering each individual field or plot of ground devoted to some crop this year. When all of the farms ground devoted to some crop this shown on the map are completed, it is returned to the county agent's office, where actual measurement of all the fields and plots is made by use of a planimeter which shows area to tenth of acres as well as the total of acres, as well as the total cultivated land on the farm. "This method of checking com-pliance has been found to be considerably less expensive and much more accurate than any employ-ed in the past, as the planimeter measures areas with irregular measures areas with irregular boundaries as accurately as those with straight boundaries," County Agent Robinson stated.

Robinson reported that all phases of the farm program work in Navarro county are progressing satisfactorily. All matters pertaining to past programs have been cleared from the local office, and the status of work on the 1937 program is well beyond the schedule of a year ago.

the first thing that happened to Matilda w as practically a n E. R. Forbes all-over bath in cold cream. Cream, and a hot pack to drive it in. More cream, and massage to make the skin take it up. Then an oily foundation cream and the make-up. To use at night, Matilda was soil a jar of very nourishing cream, probably with lanolin, and a bottle of oil for cleansing. Oily foundation cream and a powder which claimed to be non-drying. Cream rouge, too. Matilda had a good start now on her way to beauty. Next day we resumed. A manicure and a pedicure took place at the same time, and in both cases oil was lavishly used on the nails. Eyebrows were plucked to a nice line—this in itself was a transformation, for Matilda had eyebrows that grew more or less where they wanted, which was all over her forehead. A sticky lotion which dried into the skin was got for the arms and the elbows and the neck—to bleach and to refine skin exposed to too much sun and wind, Matilda, with fashionable pink nails, skin bleaching to a creamy white, and charmingly made up, with touches of gold shadow around her golden brown eyes, with reddish gold tints to her thick hair, smartly rolled, and a complexion already looking as thought she cared for it, was quite a different woman.

You cannot eat too many figs, as they are rich in their nourishing qualities, nd the natural sugar in them gives energy without fattening or creating acids, such as may result from taking food sweetened with refined white sugar.

L. F. Camphor ice is easily made, as it is only spirits of camphor added to simple oils and wax, and much the same as that of any other cream.

Mrs. V.—There is no feeling against the use of grease paint any more. It is used a great deal to cleanse the skin, to cover blemishes. The women who have used it for years prove its value, for actresses are known to have beautiful and well-preserved skins. It becomes a foundation for any sort of make-up, or a cleanser and an oil treatment. It is very inexpensive, and sold now by almost all drug stores.

AS INDIVIDUALS CHOOSE, SO THE NATION MUST GO

Choice Is the Decisive Factor In History—

A British Letter—Moses Pleads With His People.

And every man decideth
Which way his soul shall go.
—Oxenham.

Everybody worth his sait, or fit to have standing room on earth, is eager to serve his own country, Patriotism is one of the virtues which, in common with Scripture, the wise men of all generations have emphasized. How may we humble, ordinars folk sincerely help our Nation in this perplexing period of history? The answer is clear and this perplexing period of history? The answer is clear and simple: In life's daily choices, choose the way of integrity, of good will and of self-spending. For a nation is only an agglomeration of individuals. As the citizens are, so the state will be. The shortest route to national service is that laid down by Moses.

service is that laid down by Moses.

Amidst the Present Mess.

Politics and industry and international relations are in a mess today because so many individuals have shirked their own obligations, and have surrendered their personal privilege and duty of choice to others. The subservience of free men and women to all sorts of dictatorship is one of the marvels of our time. Millions—in some cases, entire nations—let somebody else decide what they will think and how they will live.

Whereas, the Divine way, which is the basis of all democracy, is for every man and woman to exercise his exalted prerogagtive of choice. Accompanied by many and wonderful Providences, Moses had led the Israelites through forty years of wilderness wandering, designed to fit them for self-government. As they came to the heights of Moab, with the Jordan Valley and Canaan stretched out before them to the West, he bade them make a new the great

The Verdict of History. oude, the historian, has put

Capacity to choose sets man apart from all the rest of creation. That is the quality which is really the Divine image upon mortal. In simplest terms, the truth is that every human being may say "yes" or "no" to each moral question that confronts him. He may even say "yes" or "no" to God.

Of all living creatures in this vast universe, only man can stand upright and refuse to obey God; or even to deny the existence of God. This is the crown of Divine sonship upon the brow of man. It is his soul's sovereignty. Alike, the scholar amidst his books, the farmer in the field, possesses this unique and supreme ability to choose.

It is the strength and glory of our race that most persons have chosen the worse. For it is man's Divine right to go to hell, if he so chooses.

Destiny in the Making.

Nobody can escape the responsibility of choice. "No man can choose not to choose; for not to decide is itself a choice." Hour by hour, day by day, year by year, people are making the choices that decide their own and their children's future.

Everybody worth his salt, or fit to have standing room on carthis eager to serve his own country. Patriotism is one of the virtues which, in common with its careful pondering. That world."

The Verdict of History.
Froude, the historian, has put into a single sentence a profound summary of this truit, which does langth: "One lesson, and only one, history may be said to repeat with distinctness; that the world is built somehow on moral foundations; that, in the long run, it is ill with the wicked."

Sound thinkers follow Froude's verdict today. All over the world there are clear voices calling the muddled people back to right eous and religion. China foundations; that foundations; that, in the long run, it is ill with the long run, it is well with the good; in the long run, it is well and relationships throughout the world."

These learned writers declare, in a generalization which merits careful pondering, that "No effective unifying or harmonizing principle has yet been discovered in any system of social or political philosophy, or method of political organization, or science of national or international statecraft. Quite plainly, human ingenuity and human intelligence have failed to find a remedy. It cannot be God's plan or purpose that no remedy should be found. He surely has one. The most urgent duty of every Christian is to try, under God's guidance to find a remedy, and then to apply it with faith and unremitting intensity of purpose. We have been deeply impressed with the signs around us of the revival of conviction in this sense." The long letter then develops this idea, citing the Oxford Group as a case in point. It all might be summed up in the motto of the recent Christian Endeavor convention. "We Choose
